GENERAL INFORMATION

EARN CONTINUING EDUCATION UNITS (CEUS)

Earning CEUs is easy and environmentally friendly this year!

Download the conference app using the instructions below. After each session you attend, open the session on the app and complete the Course Evaluation. The evaluation will ask for a CEU Code Word, which is provided by the room host or presenter.

That's it! After the conference is complete, PRPS will tally CEUs and send each participant a summary letter for your files. Please give PRPS up to 30 days to process CEUs. No paperwork, no muss, no fuss!

Continuing Education Units are awarded by PRPS in accordance with the International Association for Continuing Education and Training (IACET) guidelines.

DOWNLOAD THE APP!

By downloading the App, you will have all the Conference details right on your phone. Download the PRPS Conference & Expo App by going to the Play Store or the App Store and download the Cvent Events app or scan the QR code, then search 2024 PRPS Conference & Expo and select our event.

Scan to download the App

On the App, you will find: full session descriptions & locations, receive conference updates, get speaker information, exhibitor listing, social alerts, session evals, updates and CEUs.

A special thank you to Angelina Capozzi for providing professional headshots in the Expo Hall. Visit Angelina on Wednesday to get your headshot taken!

Angelina Capozzi is the Program Director for Montgomery Township Recreation Center, and she runs her own photography business based out of Lansdale PA. She started her photography career in college while she was studying abroad in Guatemala. One of her favorite projects was capturing photos of sixteen different communities, documenting their history, and creating a website where the information can be stored. Recently, she has created a photo wall at Montgomery Township Recreation Center which displays her photos of programs, activities, and events at the Township.

Drew Murray is a speaker, magician and entrepreneur from Columbus, Ohio. He presents at several hundred events each year both nationally and internationally for groups such as Amazon, Facebook, Nationwide Insurance and The FBI. His residency show, "Rare Magic" sells out months in advance at Autograph Collection Hotels across the country. Through the concept of time he reminds audiences that the most remarkable journeys often begin with a single moment of wonder.

Join us as Drew gives a behind the scenes look at how we can use techniques of a magician to create true magic for those around us.

Endnote: The “State of the State” of Outdoor Recreation in Pennsylvania

Much of what constitutes the appeal and livability of our communities is our direct connection to our public spaces and our natural and cultural assets. However, working professionals recognize that by sharing expertise across disciplines and jurisdictions, we can deliver more comprehensive solutions to community problems. This General Session introduces the new Office of Outdoor Recreation, and allows representatives of several Pennsylvania State Departments to share how we can together create broader, more collaborative opportunities for advancing Pennsylvania’s outdoor recreation economy.

Panelists: Nathan Reigner, Director, Office of Outdoor Education, Dept. of Conservation and Natural Resources; Jessica Shirley, Acting Secretary, Department of Environmental Protection; Trish Meek, Statewide Bicycle and Pedestrian Coordinator, Department of Transportation; Kristen Rodack, Executive Deputy Secretary, Department of Health; Carrie Lepore, Deputy Secretary of Tourism, Department of Community and Economic Development;

Facilitator: Tim Herd, CPRE, Chief Executive Officer, Pennsylvania Recreation and Park Society
